Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

Details of seeking passage of two more legislative acts being sponsored by the Palm Beach County Commission were in the hands of Commission Chairman Paul Rardin this week.

Rardin was sent to the State Capitol by the commission Monday to be on the scene when two measures—one seeking return of control of the county voting machines the other, an enabling act allowing the county to micro-film county records—are introduced.

The bulk of the county commission legislative program which was farmed under the direction of the Glades commissioner, has already passed both the House and Senate according to a report heard Monday by the commission. County Attorney Harry Johnston said that four bills had already been approved by the legislature and that the two remaining bills would be ready for introduction this week.

Already on the books is a measure changing the designation of a number of county roads to state roads; a bill requiring land owners to file plans of subdivision before the land is sold in small parcels; permission to purge registration lists of registrants who have not voted for four years and who do not answer mail inquiries; a bill to allow the county to carry liability insurance.

Rardin, who also heads the State Association of County Commissioners, said that while at Tallahassee, he would aid the association in securing passage of its legislative program.

The commission at its regular session this week, took under advisement, a request from Dr. W. E. VanLandingham, county physician, for housing facilities to be provided for employees of the county home and hospital. Dr. VanLandingham said that space now being used to house employees could be put to better use for housing patients.

Chairman Rardin named a committee with membership of Commissioners John Prince, Kenneth Foster, Lake Lytal; County Engineer J. M. Boyd and Dr. VanLandingham, to study the need for housing facilities and to make estimates on the costs of such a project.

Other action by the commission included:

Appropriation of $60 for prizes for County Achievement Day to be held May 4 under the direction of the home demonstration department.

Heard a report by Commissioner Prince that his committee, named to study parking facilities around the court house was ready to meet with a parking committee formed by the Grand Jury. The Grand Jury recommended that the commission survey the parking problem around the court house. Authorized Commissioners Prince and Foster to attend a state-wide mosquito control meeting to be held at Key West April 29 to May 2. Foster will be one of the speakers at the meeting.

Authorized the county engineer to apply for dredging permit to start the roadbed for a new section of AIA between Lake Worth and Lantana.

Authorized the county engineer to proceed with plans for landscaping the county-owned ocean front at Hippie Park.

Authorized two right-of-way settlements for Indiantown Road. Referred to the county engineer a number of bids for furnishing three new trucks to the county with instruction for the engineer to buy from the best bidder.

News Notes From State Capital

TALLAHASSEE—The legislative crime drive is moving slowly along, high-lighted this week by the first public hearings of the Haley committee of the House to hear testimony on possible corruption of public officials. The House has passed a bill making it illegal to print or distribute advance information about racing, including selection and other data in daily newspapers. It also has passed a bill requiring hotel and beverage licenses to be canceled where gamblers are caught in hotels or bars. The third crime bill to pass the House sets up an enforcement agency for the Railroad Commission and Attorney General's office to enforce the bookie law. None of the 11-bill series introduced earlier by Rep. Perry Murray and others to hem up and punish gamblers has yet passed. The House and the Senate each has rejected the idea of a "Little Kefauver" committee to probe the crime wave between sessions. "Too many headlines," concluded one member.

TALLAHASSEE—The House of Representatives has agreed to let the people vote on whether 18-year-olds shall vote. On the cry from men like Rep. Frances Williams of Citrus—"Old enough to die for this country, old enough to vote!" the House overrode objections of the conservative element.

The same measure has been favorably reported by a Senate committee. McAlpin of Hamilton, Hathaway of Charlotte and Johnson of Hillsborough introduced the measures.

TALLAHASSEE—An expanded 3 per cent sales tax, to raise an additional $17,500,000 a year from the consumers of Florida, has passed the Senate, and soon will be considered in the House if the Finance and Taxation committee lets it out. The bill resulted from a summer's work by a committee under Senator W. A. Shands of Gainesville, and removes previous exemptions from such articles as candy, clothing, farm equipment and long-term rentals. An amendment by Senator James Moore of Sebring added newsprint to the list of things now to be taxed. Such men as Senator Johnnie Wright of DeFuniak Springs, Luther Tucker of Crawfordville and Henry S. Baynard of St. Petersburg opposed the bill to the last. In the House it is expected to have a rough passage—if it goes through at all. This is the first major money bill of this session. The House already had passed a bill to continue the 1949-50 appropriations act, due to expire in July, if no new bill is agreed on this session. However, a Senate committee killed this House bill. If the House now buries the sales tax amendment, the two Houses will be heading for the stalemate many predict.

TALLAHASSEE—Welfare critics have been advised by Senator James A. Franklin of Fort Myers that any lawful body or legislative group can inspect welfare roles, and see who is drawing the $500,000,000 a year spent for needy old folks, the blind and the dependent children. The Senate is considering a measure to require the list of the needy blind to be opened to the Florida Council for the Blind, so they can know who to help, and to the State Highway Patrol, to lift driving licenses of those drawing blind relief. Already approved is the memorial urging Congress to change its welfare laws to permit names of those getting help to be made public.

TALLAHASSEE—The House has passed the Dowda-Sweeney Tapper bill to put electric and gas companies under the jurisdiction of the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission, and it now rests on the Senate. Calendar with a favorable committee vote. Senator Henry Baynard of St. Petersburg also had introduced a regulatory bill, and it was referred to the calendar without recommendation. The House version, retaining the present three Railroad Commissioners, and making no major change in their methods of regulating other utilities, will exempt from the bill the city-owned utilities, the REA and natural gas pipe lines.

TALLAHASSEE—The Florida Senate has passed a resolution calling on the Governor to accept the resignation of the four remaining members of the Fresh Water Fish and Game Commission, following a blistering report from a committee headed by Senator B. C. Pearce of Palatka. Others, including Senator Newman G. Brackin of Crestview, have urged a change in the constitution to make the commission a creature of the state cabinet instead of appointment by the Governor. The House has passed the resolution to a committee for further study.

TALLAHASSEE—Repeal of the controversial milk control act was voted down by a House Public Health committee, after several hundred dairymen from all over Florida gathered here to protest. The repeal bill was offered by Rep. Pittman, Hillsborough, who declared rigid price fixing prevented even those who wanted to give cheap milk to school children from doing so.

TALLAHASSEE—Unmasking and de-hoarding of the Ku Klux Klan is the aim of bills given favorable reports by committees of the Senate and the House. Sponsors of the bills said they expect to push the bills to final passage. They prohibit not only the wearing of masks or hoods, but also the burning of crosses on private property.

TALLAHASSEE—The Florida Legislature has erased the record of three preceding sessions on the subject of endorsing world federalism, and has now turned to giving a mild pat on the back to the United Nations. Bills sponsored by Senator Russell Morrow and by Rep. Bryant G. Patton of Franklin county rescind former legislative endorsement of the world federalism.

Collier - Anderson

Miss Margaret Elizabeth Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Anderson of Pahokee, became the bride of Morgan Luther Collier, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Collier of Lake City, at a double ring ceremony held at the Pahokee First Methodist Church Sunday, April 22, at 3 p. m.

The vows were read by the Rev. Ralph W. Todd, pastor of the church, as the couple stood before the altar which was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and saters against a background of palms and lighted by white tapers in candelabra. The altar rail was entwined with fern and the pews were marked by clusters of white gladioli tied with satin bows.

Preceding the ceremony Madame Mary Leander of Coral Gables sang "O Promise Me," "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Mildred Todd who also played several nuptial selections and the traditional wedding marches. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white nylon net over satin, with the yoke of the fitted bodice outlined with tiny lilies-of-the-valley, and full ballerina skirt. Her only ornament was a string of pearls and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and candy-tuft.

Mrs. Leon Kistner of Bridgeport, Conn., sister of the bride and matron of honor, wore aqua nylon net over satin with fitted bodice and tulle and a tulle of matching nylon net and aqua flowers. Miss Patricia Carter of Okeechobee and Miss Abbye Jean Rogers of Macclenny, bridesmaids, wore gowns styled similarly to that of the matron of honor. Miss Carter in yellow and Miss Rogers in orchid. All of the bride's attendants carried colonial bouquets of spring flowers.

L. O. Collier was his son's best man. Ushers were Ellison Neal, Forrest Smith, Gustaf Fisher and Jimmy Putman, all of Lake City. Mrs. Anderson chose for her daughter's wedding a dinner dress of dusty rose-lace and chiffon over taffeta and a corsage of white lilies. Mrs. Collier, the bridegroom's mother, was in a dinner dress of blue lace with matching accessories and her corsage was of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the garden at the home of the bride's parents on Bacom Point. The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, had as a centerpiece a four-tiered wedding cake and was decorated with bouquets of spring flowers. Miss Frances Love of Cocoa and Miss Bette Lou Pickett presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Esther McAlpine of Sanford was in charge of the bride's book. Mrs. Carl Hansen of Miami was in charge of arrangements for the reception and Mrs. John T. Pickett supervised flower arrangements at both the wedding and reception.

The Rev. Ronald Lane Latimer, Vicar of Holy Nativity Church, Pahokee, spent the past week at Good Shepherd Monastery (Episcopal), Orange City. He was accompanied by Chas. Creel, II, and they made a retreat under the direction of Father David, O.S.A., Prior of the monastery.

You've Got To Hand It To Sandy

Sandy Johnson's wife "Tiny" suddenly asks him at breakfast the other morning "Why don't you build me some bluebird houses?"

"What for?" asks Sandy. "Why for bluebirds, of course" says Tiny. "We always had 'em at home when I was a girl. May sound silly—but I sorta miss 'em."

Well, I know how busy Sandy's been lately and the thought of taking time out to build birdhouses could have made a lot of men blow their top. But not Sandy. He says, "No, Tiny. It doesn't sound silly. I think it's a wonderful idea—we're going to have bluebirds—and I'm starting on some birdhouses tonight."

From where I sit, we could do with more understanding people like Sandy—and Tiny, too. He respects her likings, and she respects his. He likes a temperate glass of beer now and then—and although Tiny sticks to coffee, whatever Sandy likes is O.K. with her. They live and let live—and that's why they are so happy.

TO LATE TO CLASSIFY

BY RUSSELL KAY

SECRETARY OF THE FLORIDA PRESS ASSOCIATION

Paper has long been a critical material. During the last war many newspapers were forced to cease publication while others limited advertising and reduced the size of their publications to meet the situation.

There has been little improvement and today paper is difficult to obtain, and indications are in no way promising for the future.

Publishing sources have figured consumption of newsprint is about 6.5 per cent above 1949 and production has gained only 2.8 per cent. This means digging into stocks for the difference and stocks are dwindling.

Florida may play an important part in helping to relieve this newsprint shortage and at the same time give this state another big industry.

News came out of Clewiston the other day that a new and successful process had been developed for the manufacture of a good grade of newsprint from sugar bagasse, waste from the cane after the juice has been extracted.

It was stated by Harry T. Vaughn, general manager of the United States Sugar Corporation, Clewiston, that a Cuban engineer, Joaquin J. de la Roza, has perfected the new process and heads a corporation that plans construction of a $15,000,000 paper mill at Clewiston.

According to de la Roza, the new process is less expensive, the raw material more abundant and the quality of paper produced comparable with newsprint made from wood pulp.

He points out that utilizing the waste of sugar cane preserves the forests and wild life and aids soil conservation and water supply because there is no problem of deforesting to obtain raw materials.

The new multi-million dollar paper mill to be built at Clewiston, where the world's largest sugar mill is now in operation, will be operated by the United Bagasse Cellulose Company. Joaquin J. de la Roza is president and Harry T. Vaughn of Clewiston is vice president.

No definite date for ground breaking has been set but de la Roza said that the new plant can be in operation in 18 months if suitable priorities for construction are obtained. When in operation it will have a capacity of 45,000 tons of newsprint annually.

Officials were not in a position to state just what price the consumer would pay for bagasse newsprint, but de la Roza pointed out that his process for commercial production of newsprint was much cheaper than the present cost of producing comparable quality of paper from wood pulp.

De la Roza is no newcomer to the scene. He is well-known in sugar circles as well as in the paper technological field in the United States and is recognized as an authority on the utilization of bagasse and continuous pulp processing.

The United Bagasse Cellulose Corporation was set up and incorporated in Florida to manufacture catalogue, book and other papers and cellulose products from bagasse as well as newsprint, but it is understood that newsprint is the first goal.

The establishment of this gigantic new industry will mean much to Florida for it will give employment to additional thousands of workers and will support business and industry throughout the area.

Directors of the new company are listed as Atwood Dunwoody, Miami attorney; Eric Legemann, New York, director of Francisco Sugar Co.; C. Harold A. Motz, New York, director of Czarnikow-Rionda Co.; Forrest P. Tralles, St. Louis, Mo.; Harry T. Vaughn and Charles E. Wetherald, Clewiston, directors of the United States Sugar Corporation.

Christmas Seal Funds Used For Research

Christmas Seal Funds will this year make possible the most extensive medical research program in the history of the voluntary tuberculosis control movement in this country, according to word received here yesterday from Dr. Esmond R. Long, director of research, National Tuberculosis Association.

Dr. Long informed Lake Lytal, president of the Palm Beach County Tuberculosis Association, that the NTA Board of Directors had approved grants to aid the work of 29 investigators in 12 states and the District of Columbia for the current fiscal year. Funds for the grants are derived from the 1950 sale of Christmas Seals throughout the country. This year, Florida contributed $24,163.99 to this work. Of this, $1,509.92 is the contribution of the Palm Beach County Tuberculosis Association.

Some of the investigators are pursuing laboratory studies, others are engaged in clinical work. Answers are being sought to numerous questions about tuberculosis through study of the germ which causes the disease and the "host" in whom the germ takes up residence, by following the course of the disease in the patient, by searching for better methods of treatment.

Among the researchers are: Dr.

David T. Smith, professor of bacteriology and associate professor of medicine, Duke University School of Medicine, Durham, N. C. Dr. Smith is attempting to find out whether there is any fundamental difference between the ability of infectious and one-infectious strains of germs to use vitamins essential to their growth.

A better understanding of the relation of tuberculosis is the goal of Dr. George T. Lewis, professor of biochemistry, Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia, who is studying the relation of the concentration

WE ARE IN STEP WITH THE TIMES

It is no small task to record each week the happenings of any community. We here at The Everglades News are happy that our assignments bring us face to face with hundreds of folks of our community each week. We strive to KEEP IN STEP with what is going on here in this vast agricultural area on the eastern shore of Lake Okechobee. It gives us a great deal of pleasure to record for you weekly (and for posterity) the happenings of a growing section of Florida. Future generations will thrill when they read of the pioneering efforts of you and your loved ones in establishing a great agricultural empire.

KEEPING IN STEP with the times means that we must be on our toes day in and day out—making an earnest effort to record those things which are interesting, historical, progressive and at times amusing. All such happenings go toward making up a worthwhile and happy community where living is just a mite better than in thousands of other places in America—where your neighbor's smile is just a mite friendlier than is witnessed elsewhere in this great land of ours.

Here In Our Newspaper
Office We've Spent

25 Years Doing One Thing Well

Each week for more than a quarter of a century this Newspaper has reached its readers each Friday morning with full and complete news coverage of the Lake Okechobee Farm Area. Bringing out The Everglades News each week—on schedule—has grown to be a habit with those of us who produce it. Not once during the 25 years of its existence has this newspaper missed a publication day. Through floods, hurricanes and other adverse antics of nature we have managed to make the deadline. It has been no small accomplishment.

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

Theme of the Christian Science services next Sunday will be the continuing and eternal nature of life. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "PROBATION AFTER DEATH."

Two verses from Proverbs (21: 16, 21) supply the Golden Text: "The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead . . . He that followeth after-righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness, and honour."

Among the selections contained in the Lesson-Sermon are these. From the Bible: "I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord" (Ps. 118: 17).
From "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is deathless. Life is the origin and ultimate of man, never attainable through death, but gained by walking in the pathway of Truth both before and after that which is called death" (p. 487: 3-6).

Try this on your stereoscope!

When this "viewer" was in the parlor, folks used to look at pictures like these.

They'd spend many an hour gazing wistfully at scenes of places they'd like to visit, things they'd like to do.

But, today, there's an invention that beats those stereoscopic pictures all hollow. No—it isn't television.

It's the Payroll Savings Plan—an automatic method of saving that all but puts you on that liner and says "bon voyage."

So simple, so painless, so sure—the Payroll Savings Plan sets aside a small part of your earnings each and every pay day, puts it in United States Savings Bonds.

And those bonds grow and GROW. In ten short years they pay you back $4 for every $3 you put in today.

A self-fattening investment—guaranteed by Uncle Sam—that will let you do things for your family and for yourself that you could never do without such a convenient plan.

And, if you're not on a payroll, there's the equally convenient, equally profitable Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank.

No matter how you look at them, U. S. Savings Bonds help to picture a bright, happy future!

Automatic saving is sure saving—U.S. Savings Bonds

Investigate Before You Start Building

JACKSONVILLE—Many business people at this time are planning enterprises which involve new building and construction of various kinds. In view of the limitations on building by the National Production Authority to conserve needed materials for defense, considerable risk is taken by those who commence building operations now without knowing whether or not such building is authorized by the National Production Authority. Penalties are involved for engaging in unlawful building and construction, according to William A. Dunlap, District Manager of the U. S. Department of Commerce at Jacksonville.

Full information on the orders and regulations of the National Production Authority and how they apply to building and construction, as well as to business in general, may be obtained from the District Offices of the United States Department of Commerce which are handling the work of the NPA in this area. These offices are located in the Federal Building at Jacksonville, the Wallace S. Annex at Tampa and the Seybold Building at Miami. Play safe and get full information from your nearest district office before getting too far involved in new building which cannot be approved.

Plans Are Made For Watermelon Festival

LEESBURG—Despite the fact that a late season will delay ripening of watermelons in central Florida this year, Leesburg is going ahead with plans for a bigger and better Florida Watermelon Festival which is scheduled to be held Wednesday, May 16.

General Chairman George Rast, who has been keeping an eagle eye on the local melon crop, states that there will be enough melons available for the annual melon-eating contest and the show will go on.

The event, which annually attracts thousands of visitors from all sections of the state, will get underway with a brilliant and colorful parade at 9:45 A. M. followed by the traditional watermelon eating contest at 11:00 a. m., and a bathing beauty revue at 11:30 a. m.

Feature of the afternoon program will be presentation of the famed Florida State University Circus at 2:30 p. m., followed by a baseball game, water ski show and outdoor motor boat races.

Beauty contest finals, stage show, fireworks and a coronation ball will close the eventful day.

Eugene Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Miller of Pahokee and a member of the Pahokee High School Class of 1950, has been inducted in the U. S. Airforce and is now stationed at the Lackland Air Base, San Antonio, Texas.

Silver Anniversary Of Garden Clubs Held At Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH—The twenty-fifth convention of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs will assemble April 30 through May 3 at Daytona Beach with 1,000 delegates representing the 18,000 members. Elaborate preparations are being made by the hostess clubs: the Council of Garden Clubs of the Halifax District, because of this being the silver anniversary of the founding of the Florida Federation. Headquarters are the Princess Isabella Hotel, with other available hotels the Princess Isabella Inn, Whitehall, Sheraton Plaza and Seabreeze Manor. Registration at the Princess Isabella should be made immediately upon arrival.

The convention will hear addresses by outstanding leaders in many fields. Among them will be Mr. J. Gregory Conway, internationally known flower arranger, author and artist, who will appear Tuesday afternoon. His subject will be "Floral Art of the Past and Present." The banquet speaker on Wednesday night will be Mr. John Temple Graves, well-known Southern newspaper commentator, who will lecture on "The Land Is Bright." On Thursday Dr. Kathryn Abbey Hanna, famous author, will be heard on the subject: "One-quarter Century of Florida."

Of special importance to the delegates will be the awards to the clubs making outstanding achievements during the year, also the reports of state officers and club presidents. Forums will be conducted on subjects of interest in garden club activities. Great interest is being evidenced in the election of new officers. Miss Mary S. Compton of Orlando has been president for the past two years. Many of the past presidents will be presented, as well as two Florida members of the National Council of Garden Clubs: Mrs. Karl Bickel of Sarasota, National Publicity Chairman, and Mrs. Halle Cohen of Jacksonville, National Garden Center Chairman.

The convention will close with a group of conducted tours to Tomoka Jungle, Los Mission and Sugar Mill, and New Smyrna Ruins.

May Double Track Old Gandy Bridge

ST. PETERSBURG — Pointing out that without the Gandy Bridge across Old Tampa Bay, the distance from Tampa to St. Petersburg would be 55 miles instead of 18, State Senator Henry S. Baynard warned commissioners of Pinellas and Hillsborough counties that serious thought should be given the matter of doubling the capacity of the present structure or the construction of a second span and providing for one-way traffic on each structure.

Traffic is so heavy over the present bridge that it is imperative something be done to relieve the situation and provide for the future.

Baynard pointed out that the State Road Department is spending a million dollars to waterproof and strengthen the present structure, but added that "it can't last forever" and urged action now to prepare for heavy travel in the future.

The plan to construct a second bridge across the bay parallel to the present span has been called the most economical solution of the problem inasmuch as no right of way or approaches are involved and maximum use could be made of the old construction which eventually must be replaced.

Ed Howell, Jr., and Paul Gregory, both members of the U. S. Navy, stationed at Jacksonville, visited Mr. Howell's mother, Mrs. William McClintan, and family here over the weekend.

Miss Johanna McKinstry of Miami visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam McKinstry, in Pahokee over the weekend.

Failed To Abolish Fla. Milk Commission

TALLAHASSEE — Efforts to abolish the Florida Milk Commission failed when the House public health committee rejected a bill introduced by Representative Pittman of Hillsborough by a unanimous vote.

Spokesmen for the dairy industry convinced the committee that the best interests of the state would not be served by the abolishment of the commission.

They pointed out that such action would pave the way for big chain operators such as Borden, Foremost and Southern Dairies to take over, and contended that it would result in many small dairymen being put out of business.

Contention that the public was opposed to the commission and demanded its abolishment was not sustained when it developed that no one representing the consumer appeared before the committee other than Representative Pittman and J. G. Boyd, an independent producer of Leon County.

"Eat More Citrus" Is State Body Slogan

JACKSONVILLE — Spearheading a year 'round campaign to encourage Floridians to "eat more citrus," the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reports splendid results in the development of better local markets.

The campaign was initiated by Walter L. Hays, former president of the State Chamber, three years ago.

Leadership in the movement, fostered by the State Chamber, has grown rapidly, and to direct it the organization activated what is called the "eat more citrus" committee, with J. Carlisle Rogers as chairman.

Groups actively participating in the continuous campaign, in addition to the State Chamber, are the Associated Dairies of Florida, Florida Press Association, Florida Association of Broadcasters, Florida Bankers Association, Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce, Florida Chain Store Council, Florida Association of Retail Grocers, Florida State Retailers Association, Florida State Hotel Association, Florida Congress of Parents and Teachers, Florida Restaurant Association, Florida Association of Commercial Organization Executives, Florida State Theatres, Florida Continuing Educational Council and the Florida Publicity and Public Relations Association.
